

The State of Indiana has an effective statute against unsolicited telephone calls. The federal government should not take any action which would weaken this statute.

/s/ Dr. Robert N. Barger